When it comes to selecting a corner for your next project there are several different styles to choose from. The Sandstone corner (A & B) has the rough texture on both the face and the edges and can be used in conjunction with any of the panels. LedgeStone and Drystack Corners (C & D) were designed to match their corresponding rock panel. Flush Mount Outside Corners (E) also in the Sandstone pattern can be used with any of the 3 panel styles. When you begin your installation you will want to install the corners first, then the starter strip and panels. It is recommended to dry fit the corners once you begin in case you need to adjust your starting point. If you plan to go higher up the wall than the 40" or 48" corner pieces will allow you can be stack them vertically as you go up the wall. For complete installation instructions and pictures please visit our website.

Some project areas are small and do not leave much room to add in a corner piece. As an alternative to using a corner you may choose to install the panels using a miter cut at the corner.

This method of installation can be done at both Inside and Outside Corners.

2 left and 2 right. Be sure when splitting boxes you do so in equal amounts of left and rights so the remaining corners will be usable.

Accent Rocks . . .

Large and Small Accent Rocks can be used when installing the Random Rock panels. During installation insert them intermittently and they give the structure a varied look with more depth.

Happy Valentines Day

FEBRUARY 14, 2010

About 1 billion Valentine's Day cards are exchanged each year. That's the largest seasonal card sending occasion of the year, next to Christmas.
